Image Editing

in general and GraphicConverter in particular

From the viewpoint of a self-taught amateur

Bitmap & Vector Images

Our focus is bitmap - digital cameras & scanners

- Bitmap Images are made of tiny colored pixels
- Vector images (drawings) comprise groups of "mathematical" objects
 - No jaggies when magnified
 - Illustrator, Intaglio, EazyDraw,AW
 - Fonts are vector objects

Bitmap Formats

- Photoshop (PSD) supports layers
- TIFF, PICT, BMP uncompressed, large files
- JPEG, GIF, PNG compressed, lossy
 - file size versus image quality

• Many less common formats

JPEG Compression

High compression, 4.3 K

Medium compression, 8.2 K

Uncompressed TIFF, 370 K

Where do they come from?

- Digital cameras
- Scanners
- The Internet
- Screen capture (Shift-Cmd-4)
- Painting programs
